What was your biggest learning around technology through this experience?

What did you learn about yourself?

What strategies will you use to maximize the benefits and minimize the cost of technology?